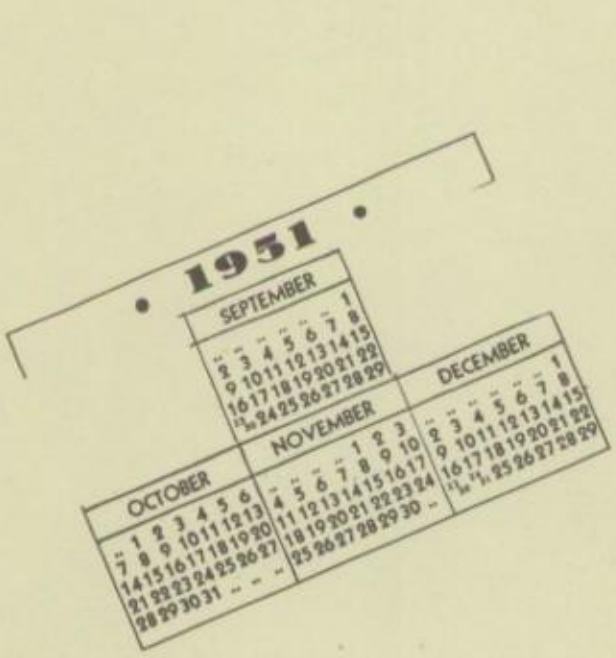
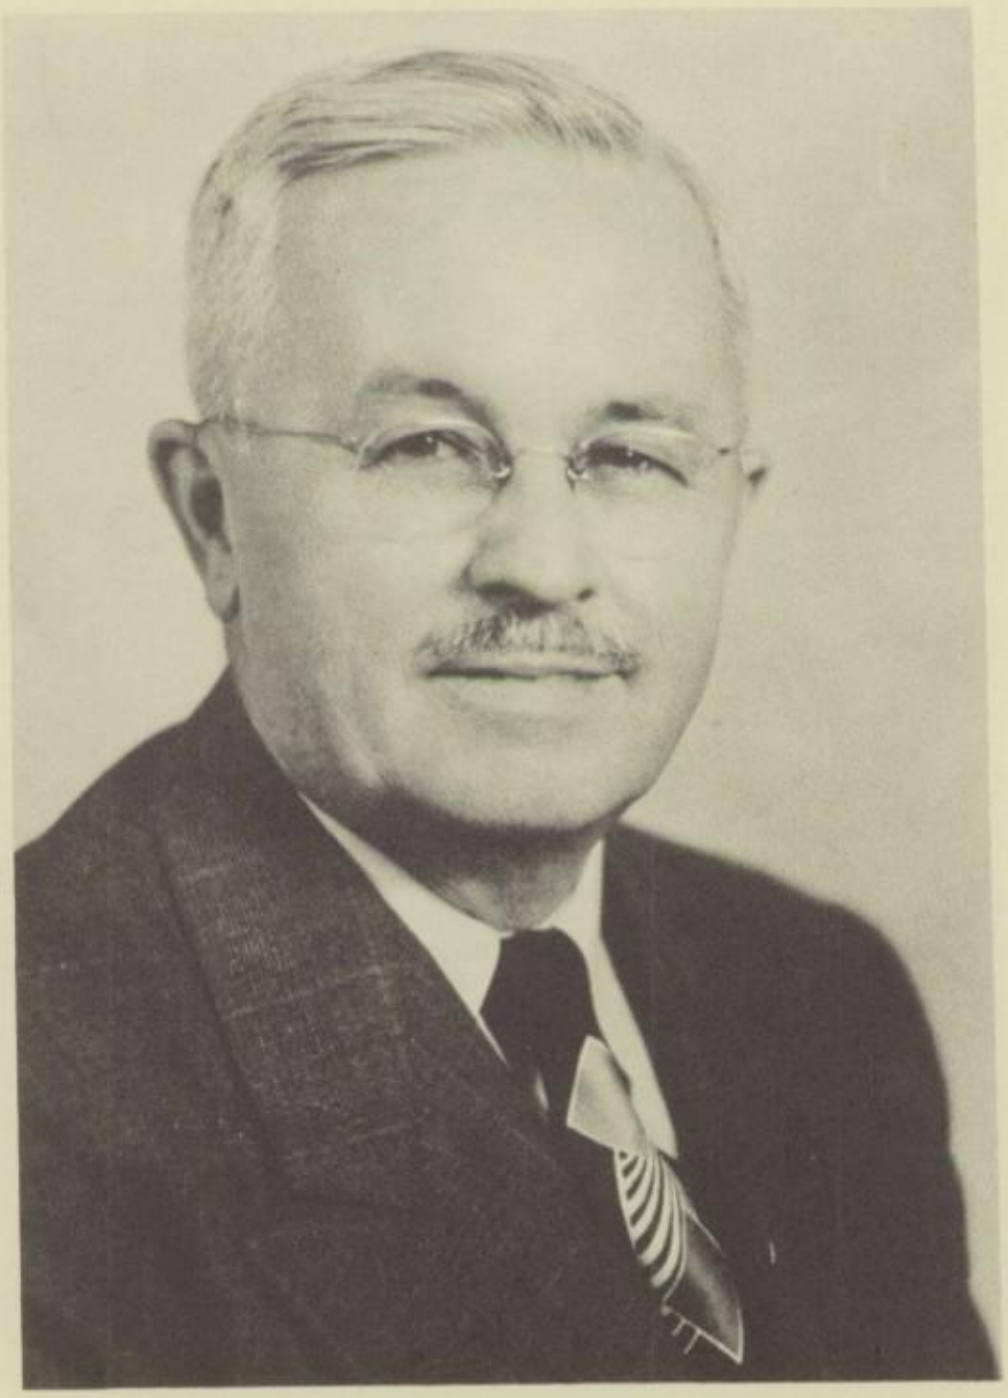
The Class of 1952 presents



In picture and story, these memories of the school year 1951 - 52, with the hope that this book will furnish many happy recollections in the years to come.

Dedication



To Mr. Carl G. Long, our superintendent, who has guided us and helped us through our high school years and who has made all the arrangements for our trip to Washington, D. C., we, the class of 1952, take great pride in dedicating this fifteenth edition of the Goshonian.

Bond Issue

Goshen Union school district passed a $173,000 bond issue in the November election. The proceeds from this issue is to be used for additions to the High School building at Damascus and the Elementary building at Goshen Center. The Board of Education proposes to add three class rooms and an all purpose room at Goshen Center, which will relieve the crowded condition there, as well as improving the cafeteria and recreational facilities.

The plans at the High School call for five class rooms and a gymnasium or basketball floor. This arrangement should make a complete elementary unit separate from the high school.

Pupils at both schools are anxiously awaiting the realization of these much needed improvements.

The Student Council is the organization which sponsors social activities, assists the development of school spirit, and promotes other projects which will benefit the school as a whole. It consists of 22 representatives from the 6 home rooms, in addition to the 3 officers and the advisor. During 1951-52 this body was under the direction of Mr. Matasy, Advisor; Norma Ryser, President; Don Baird, Vice-President; Doris Schneider, Secretary. The activities sponsored this year by the Student Council include: the election of a football queen and her attendants, a football dance, a leap year dance, and a skating party.

The annual Christmas party, usually arranged by the Student Council was cancelled because of snow.

Wallace Black, an unknown author, went to Atlantic City to write a book. While there, his servants rented the apartment to Peggy Arbuckle to make a little extra money. Mr. Black came back unexpectedly and was found in his apartment with Miss Arbuckle, an old flame of his, by Madge Beverly, his fiancee. Wallace's wealthy Aunt Kate arrived without word and, when she found that Wallace had concealed a girl in his apartment, decided to cut him from her will. To add more trouble, while Madge and Aunt Kate were there, another of his old flames arrived on the scene. But in the end all came out well, for his Aunt Kate forgave Wallace and rewilled her money to him, and he and Madge were sweethearts again.

The "money mad" Juniors began their fund-raising campaign for their Washington trip by having the food concession at the football games. Almost every Junior sold Xmas and Everyday Greeting cards. Our other projects for the year were as follows: We sold basketball schedule pencils, and platters, presented our play, collected tax stamps, sponsored several dances, a roller skating party, and a bake sale. Our greatest money-making plan was our magazine sales. Every Junior sold at least one magazine subscription and our high salesman was Roger Stitle, who sold $116.50 worth of subscriptions. Our goal for this school year is $2,000 and we hope to reach it.

The Sophomore Class elected officers and Student Council members for the year. The officers are: President, Galen Beck; Vice-President, Don Capel; Secretary, Eileen Bradley; Treasurer, Darylene Wyss. Dorothy Clark is Miss Print reporter for our class. The Student Council members are Bernice Sanor, Myron Stallsmith, Norma Miller, and Patty Galbreath.

Our class held our yearly hayride in October. The World History class under the supervision of Mr. Ingold went to Pittsburgh to the Museum. Miss Honaker's Biology class visited the Cleveland Museum and zoo. The Latin Class and teacher, Miss Middlesworth, attended the Buhl Planatarium in Pittsburgh.

Freshmen

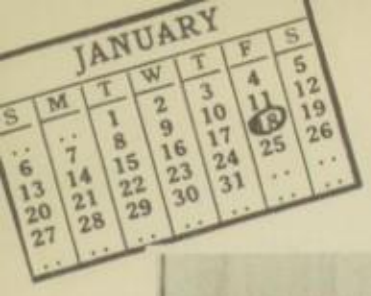
With seventy-five members, the Freshmen have the distinction of being the largest class in the school.

Our class officers are Galen Weingart, President; Jerry Stayton, Vice-President; Betty Denny, Secretary; and Lawrence Moyer, Treasurer. Mr. Ingold is the class advisor.

October 13 was the night of the freshman hayride. These hayrides are popular with us, too!

The "Shrimp Boats" finally came in when we presented our chapel program, February 29. Everyone was getting tired of hearing us practice, but we're proud of our talent.



Eighth Grade

1st Row: Mary Ellen Munsell, Jean Earley, Bonnie Maurer, Vera Greenamyer, Susie Gidley, Ardis Israel, Judy Weingart, Patty Webber, Pearl Price.

2nd Row: Judy Knopp, Patty Beck, Barbara Ruggles, Linda Lucas, Marie Hobe, Alice Stanley, Janet Mincks, JoAnn Carpenter, Kathleen Wuthrick, Miss Honaker.

3rd Row: Kenny Blasiman, Eddie Ryser, Gene Secrest, Gordon Hall, Mac Burt, David Herbert, Lanny Brunner, Jim Jose, LeRoy Holloway, Paul Bauman, Alton Weingart, Raymond Lora.

4th Row: Denis Karlen, Willard Whaley, Charles Metz, Barry Fowler, Bob Kuzma, Paul Kampher, Eddie Webber, David Sanford, Tommy Johns, John Meissner, Eddie Doyle, Ray McNeely.

The eighth grade started the year by giving a rousing welcome to our new advisor, Miss Honaker. When it came time to elect officers, we chose Barry Fowler as President; Tommy Johns, Vice-President; Jean Earley, Secretary; Paul Kampher, Treasurer.

On October 6, we junior-highs enjoyed a hay ride and a weiner roast afterwards at the home of John Meissner.

Talent was revealed when the eighth graders presented a chapel program on February 1. Since we gave a chapel program, Miss Honaker entertained us with a Valentine party in the school gymnasium, February 16. Just ask any eighth grader who the dance instructor was at that party.

Seventh Grade

1st Row: Carol Davis, Jacqueline Dermotta, Leah Doyle, Gail Donahue, Gertrude Smith, Alice Bonsall, Elisabeth Ryser, Betty Talbott, Patty Starbuck.

2nd Row: Mr. McCrate, Richard Vesey, Dwaine Blythe, Howard Balfour, Lynn Sanor, Bruce Ruggles, Carl Lindner, Fred Wisler, Gordon Warrington, Clifford Petit.

3rd Row: Charles Pelley, Robert May, Ronnie Davis, Lee Steer, Dale Burton, Kenny Dell, Jim Keller, John Keller, Dale Leyman, Bill Weber.

Our first year in junior high began under the direction of Miss Zervos. For President of our class, we elected Roger Greenamyer. The Vice-President is Danny Dell, Betty Talbott is Secretary, and Lee Steer is Treasurer.

At Thanksgiving we presented a chapel program in keeping with the season. We hope all of you learned a lesson from this program.

We were very sorry when, just after the second semester, Miss Zervos had to leave us and go South for her health. Our new home room teacher is Mr. Herceg from Pennsylvania.

"Our Miss Brooks"

Our Miss Brooks

Miss Brooks is happily dreaming about the vacation she's going to enjoy as soon as school is out, when she is suddenly forced to cast and direct the school play.

Miss Brooks has kept Ted, the school's star athlete, after hours to write "I shouldn't copy" one hundred times on the blackboard. The indignant coach storms in to get his athlete, but when he and Miss Brooks begin talking he reveals a surprising knowledge of good places to go on a vacation, and he owns a little sail boat. Miss Brooks sees him in a new light; maybe he's "the man" for her.

Ted wins the leading boy's part and Rhonda Allen, daughter of the school board president, is determined to play opposite him. But Rhonda reads her lines so poorly that Miss Brooks gives the part to Jane, who has such a crush on Ted that she reads her lines beautifully.

The school principal is in a frenzy of worry over the possible repercussions from what Miss Brooks has done. The way it develops, he did not underestimate them either.

But Miss Brooks pushes ahead with the play, taking all the blame for some things which aren't her fault, like couples getting home late from rehearsal, and for some things that are, like when in desperation she hides all the basketballs and band instruments in her closet.

Jane and Ted finally realize their mutual affection and Miss Brooks and the coach make up, after their many quarrels, and all ends happily.

Seniors Prepare For Graduation

"We've a long way to go"

"Just 400 more days 'til graduation"

"We lost a few along the way"

"These Juniors see nothing, hear nothing, tell nothing"

"Seniors at last!!"

Norma Ryser

"Cute little dickens, industrious, too.
Never can tell what she's going to do!"

Marilyn Bradley

"She is pretty, her art work is fine,
She's an outstanding student in every line."

Marlene Stryffeler

"She's greatly liked by all of us
For she's the one with personality plus."

President

Secretary

Treasurer

Vice-President

Donald Baird

"A good student with a literary mind, We're sure someday that fame he'll find."

Class Flower:
White Carnation

Class Colors:
Scarlet and Gray

Class Motto:
Less than our best is failure.

Thomas Danklef
"We first thought him quiet and
rather shy,
When you get to know him, he's quite a guy."

Evelyn Conkle
"Ev always tries to be in style;
We now predict a flowered aisle."

Reba Mercer
"Making friends is quite an art;
Speaking of Reba, she does her part."

Wendell Stanley
"A busy man, I do believe,
From early morn he works till eve."

Beverly Morrow
"Not one of her tasks will she leave undone,
She always finishes what she's begun."

Mary Miskimins
"She may be short, she may be small,
But still she is a friend to all."

Donald Walters
"Don's got the best "Hot Rod" in town,
But you never know when it's going to break down."

David Ryser
"A guy of nimble wit is he,
Full of fun and gaiety."

Iva Sanor
"Lessons are the least of her care,
When there is fun in the air."

Betty Warren
"Ready to work, ready to play,
Ready to help wherever she may."

Glenn Miller
"They say that life is what you make it,
So I'll have my fun while I can take it."

Helen McElfresh
"Quietly in her own mild way,
She does her work from day to day."

Loisann Griffith
"A happy soul she is sure to be,
For she always smiles so cheerfully."

Kenneth Steer
"A pleasant lad who seldom speaks,
Very humble--very meek."

Horace Roberts
"As big as life and full of fun,
His monkey shines will ne'er be done."

Lucinda Hole
"Slightly outspoken, but very kind.
A better friend, you'll never find."

Irene Miller
"Here is a girl it's a treat to meet,
Pretty, quiet, and very sweet."

Kenneth McNeal
"He has much wit,
And is never shy of using it."

Jeanette Hoffmaster
"In popularity, this little lass,
Rates at the head of our class."

Shirley Wang
"Always happy, always gay,
She's a good sport, we all say."

Leonard Engler
"He has no thought of coming woes,
As trouble comes and trouble goes."

Dale Berger
"The class declares a real vacation
When Dale starts his recitation."

Nancy Powell
"She always helps when work's to be done.
She's also around to join in the fun."

Barbara Powell
"Barb is quiet, but her friends
all say
She is jolly in her own quiet way."

Allan King
"Though Popeye is not my type,
I'd be lost without my pipe."

Donna Kiplinger
"Nothing is the matter,
As long as she can chatter."

Joyce Waithman
"If silence is golden as they say,
Joyce is getting richer every day."

James Watson
"At first we think he's rather quiet,
But later on, he's quite a riot."

Walter Dinger
"His greatest talent--a gift of gab-- Makes life around him seem less drab."

Lois Ritchey Butcher
"When love letters and lessons clash,
Let the lessons go to smash."

Joan Wolford
"Sweet, pretty, and fair,
Gay, graceful and debonair."

Donald Weingart
"A shy little guy, I used to be.
Could June have made this change in me."

Betty Haessly
"Dainty, modest, fair is she.
A charming maid, we all agree."

June Zink
"Boys try to date her if they can,
But it's hands off; Donnie's her man."

Daryl Wyss
"To tell of "Cork" it takes one line;
To worry is a waste of time."

Class History

Four years ago in the fall of 1948, this senior class entered high school. Our class, numbering fifty-two, chose Don Baird, President;Loisann Griffith,Vice-President; Beverly Morrow, Secretary; and Shirley Wang, Treasurer. Our sponsor was Mr. Matasy. During the year we had a hayride and a wiener roast at Wendell Stanley's. We also gave a play, "The Christmas Card", at the Student Council Christmas Party.

Our sophomore year began under the supervision of Mr. Tetlow. That year our officers were Don Baird,President; Shirley Wang, Vice-President; Marilyn Bradley, Secretary; and Marlene Stryffeler, Treasurer. During this year we started to earn money for our trip to Washington by selling T-shirts, hats, and scarfs.

In the fall of 1950 we became upperclassmen. Our officers for this year were Don Baird, President; Loisann Griffith, Vice-President; Norma Ryser, Secretary; and Mary Miskimins, Treasurer. Our sponsor, Mrs. McCarty, left us in January to join the Marines. We then had Mrs. Witcraft as sponsor. That year we selected our class rings. We sold pencils, hot dogs, and pop at football and basketball games. We also sold Christmas cards, and magazines to earn money for our trip to Washington. Our class play, "The Daffy Dills", was cancelled because of snow.

At last the long-awaited day arrived. We were Seniors! Our class this year numbers only thirty-nine after having lost thirteen along the way. We waited patiently for the first chapel program when the lower classes would stand as we marched in. Our officers for this year were Norma Ryser, President; Don Baird, Vice-President; Marilyn Bradley, Secretary; and Marlene Stryffeler, Treasurer. In October our pictures were taken by Mr. Dimit and were delivered before Christmas. We chose for our class play this year "Our Miss Brooks" to be presented March 28.

It was decided that the girls would wear white gowns and the boys, dark blue for graduation.

Scarlet and gray are our class colors and the white carnation, our flower. "Less than your best is failure" was chosen as our motto.

As this annual goes to press each one of us is looking back and remembering the good times we had during our years at Goshen, and also looking forward to graduation and going out to take our place in the world.

Class Will of 1952

We, the most honorable, intelligent, noble and prosperous Senior Class in the history of Goshen High School, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath, in this year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and fifty-two, the following to the faculty and students of our dear and beloved Goshen High:

-Articles-

I. To the relieved faculty, we bequeath a few additional gray hairs.

II. To the Juniors we leave our seats in government class.

III. To the Sophomores we will our ability to get into trouble.

IV. To the Freshman we bequeath our intelligence, which we forgot to use.

V. Don Baird leaves for a horse ranch out West.

VI. Dale Berger wills his chauffering ability to Jim Ramsey.

VII. Marilyn Bradley leaves in search of new fields of men to conquer.

VIII. Evelyn Conkle leaves for Beloit with a diamond on her finger.

IX. Walt Dinger leaves a puzzle still unsolved.

X. Tom Danklef leaves with all the girls chasing him.

XI. Leonard Engler wills his butch hair-cuts to Lee McCluggage.

XII. Loisann Griffith leaves to keep house for Dale Hileman.

XIII. Betty Haessly wills her short stature to Frances Baird.

XIV. Jeanette Hoffmaster bequeaths her ability to collect boys and their rings to Mabel Grim.

XV. Lucinda Hole wills her ability to stay slender to Shirley Ruth Wyss.

XVI. Allan King bequeaths his pipe and cigarettes to Mr. Matasy.

XVII. Donna Kiplinger wills her ability to chatter to Mary Lee Cameron.

XVIII. Helen McElfresh leaves her ability to chew gum in government class without getting caught to the class of '53.

XIX. Kenny McNeal bequeaths his ability to talk his way in and out of anything to Ronnie Knight.

XX. Glenn Miller leaves after a short stay.

XXI. Irene Miller leaves Eldon Morckel her seat in the senior room.

XXII. Mary Miskimins bequeaths quietness for Patty Woods and Floretta Roberts to fight over.

XXIII. Beverly Morrow wills her package of Tintair to Patty Close.

XXIV. Nancy Powell wills her candy-selling job to Betty Holloway.

XXV. Barbara Powell bequeaths her short haircuts to Lavine Odey.

XXVI. Lois Butcher leaves as a sailor's wife.

XXXVIII. Betty Warren leaves to become the first feminine shortstop in major league history.

XXXIX. Jim Watson bequeaths his intelligence to anyone dumb enough to accept it.

XL. Don Weingart and June Zink leave together.

XLI. Joan Wolford leaves as quietly as she came.

XLII. Daryl Wyss leaves a "Wyss-crack" in every room.

CLASS PROPHECY

One day in the brisk October weather of 1961, Mr. I. M. Nosy sped along the new Damascus Turnpike in his new atomic-powered autoplane thinking of the class of "52."

As he glanced out the car window, whom did he see but Mrs. Dale Hileman, the former Loisann Griffith, pushing a baby carriage as she went to meet her husband at Steer's Super Market. Mr. Kenneth Steer owns the largest Super Market in Ohio.

Noticing that his gas gauge was registering low, he pulled into Sir Corkoo's Unservice Station. While waiting for his car to be serviced, he went across the street to "The Old Dutch Inn." Betty Warren, the owner, was bustling around in the kitchen. Returning to his car which had been serviced by Don Walters, an expert grease monkey, he jumped into his car, put it in fly gear, and took off.

While gliding through the air, he noticed June and Don Weingart, happily married and living on a turkey farm.

He was impressed by the beautiful acres of the Perfection Dairy owned by Kenny McNeal. Two of his distributors are Wendell Stanley and Dale Berger.

Glancing down at the road below, he espied a neon sign flashing the introduction of the new operetta, "Romello" starring Marilyn Bradley, accompanied by the concert pianist, Reba Mercer. This operetta is under the direction of Norma Ryser.

Mr. Nosy sighted an Air Force Base below and called in for instructions to land. He received an all clear from Don Baird, control tower operator. Upon landing, he was greeted by the head instructor, Shirley Wang who took him on a tour of the base. At the far end of the field, he observed Sergeant Jeanette Hoffmaster drilling some recruits. Passing the mess hall, whom did he see but Horace Roberts, the Mess Sergeant!

Returning from the tour, he hopped into his autoplane and drove into town. Speeding down the avenue, he saw a billboard advertising Dinger's Se-al bathing suits. The billboard announced that New York's famous model, Irene Miller, will appear to model at "The Annual Bathing Suit Review."

Mr. Nosy parked his car and walked to the business section of town. Passing Allan King's Insurance Agency, he met Mary Miskimins, his secretary, returning from her lunch hour with the sales manager, Glenn Miller.

He bought a copy of the Damascus Daily Disappointment edited by Leonard Engler. The main feature is the love letter column written by Donna Kiplinger.

Mr. Nosy decided to visit the newspaper office, and while he was there, he received a long distance phone call from the OICU television studio, asking him to be a judge for an amateur show. The telephone operator was Betty Haessly.

Upon arriving at the studio, he met Helen McElfresh, a home demonstrator, emerging from the studio after her performance. He saw Nancy Powell, through the open door way of Studio 3, rehearsing for her program, "Lose It and Love It."

Hearing a commotion in the next room, he moved closer and saw that it was only Iva Sanor rehearsing for her weekly comedy hour. This week she is featuring "The Four Jokers," consisting of Lois Butcher, Evelyn Conkle, Joan Wolford, and Marlene Stryffeler. They are known all over the world for their off-key-harmony.

Joyce Waithman was working at the switch-board. He left the studio after the judging and strode quickly to his autoplane. His mind was wandering as he hopped into his autoplane and prepared to take off. Before he knew what was happening, his autoplane had collided with a huge truck driven by Jim Watson. Seeing the damage, Jim immediately sent for an ambulance. When the ambulance arrived, Tom Danklef, the driver, put Mr. Nosy on a stretcher and rushed him to the hospital.

In the emergency room, Doctor Beverly Morrow, assisted by Barbara Powell and Lucinda Hole, the nurses, tried to revive him. Seeing the hopelessness of the case they called the Reverend David Ryser who performed the last rites.

Mr. Nosy in his last moments regained consciousness long enough to murmur farewell to the most noble class at Goshen High School--the class of 1952.
